Old Fashioned Horehound Drops

A fresh lot of them received just in time to nip a number of incipient coughs in the bud. Our Horehound Candy is the kind that has the real horehound in it—the kind grandmother used to make. Tastes far better than artificially flavored horehound candy and does something the common kinds cannot do—stops coughs. Excellent for hoarseness, rawness of the throat and other conditions resulting from the cooler weather. Any amount from a nickle's worth up.

"A Mohawk's Way." Indefatigable in the extreme was the Mohawk; excessive in his expression of gratitude, he is equally determined in his quest for vengeance—justice, however, being his incentive. Highly emotional, he possesses the power of dissembling to such an extent as to ascribe him stoical. This double nature is clearly shown in this Biograph story at the Dreamland to-day.

If any officials of the Barre & Montpelier Traction company had been looking around last evening, they might have seen one reason for Barre's complaint against overcrowding of cars. It was the 6:30 car out of Montpelier, the passenger list being made up mostly of home-comers from the Central Vermont train, who had decided to take the electric cars in preference to being shunted back down to Montpelier Junction to wait for the southbound train. So the little electric car fairly groaned with the weight of the people, augmented as they were by a hearty Thanksgiving dinner. The seats were full, the aisles were crowded, and even the platforms were jammed. It was a sight to please the eye of the trolley magnate from the standpoint of financial returns, sure enough, but not at all pleasing to the humanity which was being squeezed.

An interesting debate on socialism was brought out at the meeting of the Methodist brotherhood Wednesday night, when the question, "Resolved, That the present form of government is preferable to a socialist government," was discussed. Rev. E. O. Thayer opened for the affirmative, followed by A. Henry for the negative and with Alfred A. Boyce closing for the affirmative. The other speaker chosen to support the negative did not participate, but the socialist end of the debate was upheld by several speakers from the floor when the debate was thrown open to them. Nearly a dozen speakers participated, and the discussion was continued to late in the evening. There were no judges of the debate, and no attempt to get a decision on the merits of the argument. Altogether, the program was greatly enjoyed.
